Born in Houston, Lauren C. Ravkind attended St. Anne's College, Oxford, England, and earned her B.A., summa cum laude, from Emory University. She received her J.D., with high honors, from the University of Texas. Before joining Kenny Nachwalter, she served as an adjunct professor at the University of Houston, teaching Professional Responsibility and Texas Civil Procedure, and practiced law in Houston.

Lauren has extensive experience representing lawyers and law firms and advising on ethics. In the past few years, the majority of her time has been spent representing clients in antitrust cases involving the pharmaceutical industry. She enjoys working as part of a team to efficiently and effectively achieve client goals.

She is a member of The Florida Bar and the State Bar of Texas, and is admitted to practice before the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of Florida and the U.S. Court of Appeals in the First, Third, Sixth, Ninth, and Eleventh Circuits.

Lauren enjoys cooking and traveling. She runs to raise money for the Leukemia & Lymphoma Society.
